The Materials of the Artist and Their Use in Painting, With Notes on the Techniques of the Old Masters By Max Doerner

Dust jacket notes: "The most valuable book in existence on the craft of painting, this represents the results of twenty-five years of teaching and practical experience. It has steadily built up a reputation over the years (it first appeared in translation in 1934), and has become the accepted authority on questions of technique and materials. This edition contains revisions and corrections by the translator, Dr. Eugen Neuhaus, Professor of Arts, Emeritus, in the University of California at Berkeley. An appendix for those unfamiliar with the metric system lists by chapter, page, and line the American equivalents of the measurements used in the text. With eight illustrations."
